

Amy Puccia – Director of Special Projects and IR

Amy Puccia joined Convergence Investments at the start of 2014 as an Executive Assistant. Amy manages internal communications, investor relations, and provides high-level support to the Managing Partners. Coming from the Media industry, Amy has a background in corporate partnerships where she successfully built custom multi-media packages for her clients. Executing multiple projects while managing client expectations and relationships has given Amy the experience needed to enhance the productivity and operations of the Convergence team. Amy received a Bachelor of Arts in Business Management and a minor in French from Lynchburg College in Virginia. She calls Jackson, Wyoming home along with her husband.
